

32 Season Ticket Members to Receive Exclusive NFL Membership Club Draft Experience

For the second year in a row, thirty-two season ticket members, one representing each team, will receive the ultimate NFL Draft experience courtesy of The Membership Club, an NFL league-wide benefits program.

Hand-picked by each club, this special group of fans will help kick off festivities and get behind the scenes access to Draft events in Chicago, starting on Thursday, April 30.

The experience commences with an exclusive invite to the NFL Legends Draft Luncheon at the Hilton Palmer House, presented by Nationwide, featuring an assortment of former NFL players and NFL Nationwide Man of the Year winners.

After the luncheon, the season ticket members will head back to their hotel to get ready for the Draft. Each season ticket member will receive a custom team jersey with "Draft Day" on the nameplate to wear for the night.

Later that evening, and adorned in their team custom jerseys, the 32 season ticket members will kick off the 2015 Draft by walking the New Era Draft Caps on the Gold Carpet. The V.I.P. access continues once in venue when this select group of fans will deliver NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell a customized No. 1 Nike jersey from backstage as picks are announced.

Season ticket members will also get the opportunity to visit their respective Team House in Draft Town, presented by Oikos Triple Zero. Full of football, music, food and more, Draft Town is a 900,000-square foot Draft celebration in the heart of Chicago. Divided into AFC Row and NFC Row, Team Houses are the ultimate fan caves and provide a place for fans to gather and engage with unique club content and memorabilia.

A complete list of season ticket members selected to represent their respective teams at the 2015 NFL Draft are listed below. Season ticket members are available for interviews. Media opportunities can be arranged by contacting Angela Alfano of NFL PR at Angela.Alfano@NFL.com.
