NFL Commissioner ROGER GOODELL Students from Cather Elementary School

WHAT: Students will participate in NFL FLAG clinics, led by USA Football coaches, alongside current and former players. NFL Draft prospects and NFL Commissioner ROGER GOODELL will also attend the clinics on Wednesday, April 29, from approximately 9:15-10:15 a.m., followed by a 30 minute media availability with the prospects from 10:30-11:00 a.m.

Preceding the prospects availability, GENYOUth CEO ALEXIS GLICK will join Goodell to announce a renewed commitment to reach 1,000,000 students with NFL FLAG Essentials Kits to boot activity and encourage kids and communities to 'Play 60' and play football nationwide.

Media approved to cover the 2015 NFL Draft may pick up credentials at this event from 8:30-10:00 a.m. For the Draft prospect clinic, all media must enter Draft Town at the entrance on Columbus Drive off of Jackson Drive. See map.

Media interested in covering Draft Town must be credentialed, either with Draft credentials or Draft Town credentials. If you do not have either of these, you must bring media identification with you—a workplace ID or media credential.

WHEN: April 29, 9:00-11:00 a.m.

WHERE: NFL PLAY 60 Clinic Field presented by Danimals
Draft Town Presented by Oikos Triple Zero

CONTACT: Clare Graff, NFL, 212-450-2435 Clare.Graff@NFL.com

If the youth clinics are cancelled on Wednesday morning because of inclement weather, the Draft Prospect media availability will be held in Salon A of the Hilton Chicago (720 South Michigan Ave). An email alert will go out on Tuesday night in the event of inclement weather. Check www.nflmedia.com for updates.*

DRAFT TOWN PRESENTED BY OIKOS TRIPLE ZERO MEDIA PREVIEW

WHO: NFL Senior Vice President of Events, PETER O'REILLY and JARRETT PAYTON, son of Chicago Bears legendary running back Walter Payton.

WHEN: 11:15 a.m.

WHERE: NFL PLAY 60 Field presented by Danimals

WHAT: NFL executives to give media a preview of Draft Town and Selection Square. Select attractions will be available for media to sample.

Jarrett Payton, son of Bears running back Walter Payton, will be the first person to test the Sweetness Simulator activation. This wind tunnel skydive simulator floats fans into the air where they can strike an iconic football pose in the heart of the Windy City.

Draft Town presented by Oikos Triple Zero is the free, expansive interactive Draft celebration in Grant Park open all three days of the Draft. Full of music, food and more, the 900,000-square foot celebration is the size of more than 15 football fields. No tickets are required.

Draft Town will feature interactive elements, flag football competitions, concessions, player appearances/autograph signings, an NFL Draft Shop, the NFL PLAY 60 Field presented by Danimals, where youth football clinics will take place, visits from Draft prospects and more.
